REPORT
OF THE
SUPERINTENDING SCHOOL COMMITTEE

---

DISTRICT NO. 1.

Spring and fall terms, Miss Lillie M. Elkins of Danville, teacher. This teacher, young, of limited experience in teaching, self-possessed, firm and accurate in school-room. Scholars intelligent, studious, and respectful. School-room neat, roomy, pleasant. The school met all reasonable expectations.

DISTRICT NO. 2.

Spring and fall terms, taught by Miss Josephine A. Leach of this town. This school is small in number of pupils, yet has some fine scholars. This teacher, though in some respects an invalid, yet was very laborious in the school-room. She had time, and used it with good effect in blackboard drill. The second term was broken up considerably by fright and scarlet fever. The examinations, however, showed that the school had been a very successful one.

DISTRICT NO. 3.

Summer term, taught by Miss Lilla S. Walcott. She has taught several terms before in this town, with uniform success. She has a happy faculty of interesting her pupils and commanding respect. Order good, and scholars studious and respectful. Result,—a very good school.

Winter term, taught by your humble servant, of whose faults or strong points as a teacher you will not expect me to be very critical. Suffice it to say that I was well satisfied with the order and general progress of the school. Some of the best scholars in town are in this school. Quite a large class of the pupils are fourteen years of age, and upwards.

A large majority of the school are good workers, very respectful, and made good progress. Range of studies was from the primer to physiology, philosophy, algebra, and surveying.

DISTRICT NO. 4.

Taught by Daniel N. Lane, Jr., a teacher of large experience and good mental culture. Whole number of scholars, seven; all young, with one and sometimes two in a class. Not competition enough. At the examination the school appeared well, and was reasonably satisfactory.

DISTRICT NO. 5.

Taught by Miss Susie E. V. Roberts of Candia. This teacher being young, and this being her first attempt in teaching, I felt somewhat anxious as to the result. But at the examination I found her having perfect control of herself and the school, while for nearly two hours, with her six scholars only, she held the close attention of all present, and showed conclusively that the school had been a good one. My judgment is, that if this teacher could have the experience of a few more terms of teaching, and a few terms at some good academy, she would make a first-class teacher.

DISTRICT NO. 6.

Spring and fall terms, taught by Miss Lilla S. Walcott of this town. My remarks in respect to this teacher under District No. 3 are perfectly applicable here. This district has excellent material with which to make a first-class school. First-class teachers and constant attendance will do it.

Both of the examinations were very good. In conclusion, I would inform the public that this teacher has withdrawn her name from the list of teachers in our common schools, and has assumed the charge of a private school of one pupil, in whom her whole soul is interested. The position is a permanent one. Success to her.

DISTRICT NO. 7.

Spring and fall terms, taught by Miss Nellie McClure of this town. This teacher has had charge of this school for several years which of itself speaks well for her. Her kindness, work, good order, and constant drill produce their natural results viz., success. Retain her services, and pay her well.

DISTRICT NO. 8.

PRIMARY DEPARTMENT.

Summer term, taught by Miss Olive B. Hazelton of Chester. This teacher has been known, in connection with our schools, for several years, and always as an earnest, successful teacher. She labored hard in this school, and with fair success. This school is a difficult one to teach, usually requiring experience and a peculiar talent to be very successful. Besides, this school was not in good order when the term commenced. To a certain class of the pupils good habits of order and study were unknown terms. A little more attention to these points at the commencement would have helped this teacher much. Still, I think, under ordinary circumstances, this teacher would be very successful.

Fall term, taught by Mrs. Andrew Prescott of this town. This teacher entered upon her work with a great deal of energy and tact, determined to have order and good recitations. The school soon responded to her efforts, and she obtained what she so much desired. The school was very long, and near the close of the term the average attendance was much less than usual, from fear of a contagious disease. Those who were present at the close of the school passed a very good examination, considering the state of the school when she took it. I think the district would do well to give this teacher another trial.

GRAMMAR DEPARTMENT.

Spring and fall terms, taught by Miss Hattie M. Brown of Deerfield.

This teacher was a young lady of energy and endurance. She labored hard, and I think tried to do her best. To a certain extent she was successful. She had some pupils who were fine scholars, and went to school to learn and obey orders. This class did well and passed a good examination. There were others who went to do as they pleased and have a good time, and succeeded to some extent. Such a class is always a curse to any school. There was another class who had not good habits of study. They were of the listless, "go-it-easy," division, whose example is contagious, and always hard to remedy. It is not strange if a young teacher, laboring under such difficulties, is not in the highest degree successful.

In conclusion, let me say that this school demands a teacher of large experience, of good culture, determined, exacting, critical, and of energy and endurance sufficient to insure success.

DISTRICT NO. 9.

Spring and fall terms, taught by Miss M. Annie Fitts of Candia. Here we found a teacher of several years' experience, of good culture, and possessing that happy faculty of making all her pupils respect her and willing to do what she requires. The order of the school was excellent, and the progress very satisfactory.

DISTRICT NO. 10.

Spring and fall terms, taught by Miss Sadie R. Sargent of Candia. This school is very small, having but two scholars in the district. The order of the school was good. Disorder impossible. This teacher met all reasonable expectations under the circumstances. Wanted in District No. 10, boys and girls. Please respond.

REMARKS.

Our schools, taken as a whole, are in a very good condition. In a large majority of them I found the scholars in very good order, working hard, cheerful and happy. If this state of things continues, I see no reason why a superior class of men and women, intellectually, may not come up to take the place of the fathers and mothers of to-day, as they have better surroundings and better privileges than they. But "eternal vigilance is the price of liberty." No less is it true that eternal vigilance is the price of intellectual progress. We need superior teachers at whatever cost, for one poor teacher will tear down more than two good ones can build up. Generally, "as is the teacher so is the school." We need also, good, neat, pleasant school-rooms, with good, comfortable seats, suitable books, globes, outline maps, blackboards, etc., thus having unconscious as well as conscious teachers, ever teaching through the eyes as well as the human voice. But these things cost money, and "can't afford it" will be the great argument against it. But the citizens of the town have voluntarily raised six thousand dollars and more, to build a shoe-shop for the benefit of the industrial interests of the town, and in this have done nobly; but where are the men who will raise six thousand dollars extra for the benefit of the educational interests of the town, which shall be used, not in the production of a perishable thing, but of something immortal in its nature, eternal in duration, and for the beautifying, strengthening and ennobling of the immortal mind of future generations? Fellow-citizens, is not this subject worthy of your serious consideration?

I plead for our common schools with all my power; yea, if I had the tongue of an angel, I would plead for them, knowing, as I do, that they act with a vital power upon all our institutions, whether town, state, or national, social, educational, or religious. Take care, then, of our common schools, for out of them go forth the future rulers and defenders of our country,—yea, the very life-blood of its institutions.

Respectfully submitted.

W. S. ABBOTT,
Superintending School Committee.
